

Nyomi Blog

Feb 4 2026

All blogs will be written in L^AT_EX; I find it slightly easier than HTML for writing and styling. And I plan to post trimonthly on random bullshit I am thinking about or updates on life.

1 About Me

My name is Nyomi. I am nineteen as of the date of this document. I come from the States, but I plan to move out somewhere in Europe after college. I am ridiculously autistic, enjoy programming, writing, and mathematics. Currently working on a bachelor's degree in comp E. I primarily program in C, Rust, and Go, and I know Graph Theory and basic type theory. I am beginning to write stories and such, so the blogs should be fun practice. Anyhow, this is goodbye for now, and I will post more later.
